Ethics for Health and Safety Professionals Webinar

Date: April 16 and 19, 2018

Time: 10 am - 12 noon Pacific Time

Location: Online

Southern California Education and Research Center

MAKING THE RIGHT CHOICES

Course Overview

Through lecture and interactive discussion of case studies, we will examine the fundamental causes of our actions and examine Codes of Ethics for health and safety professionals, particularly in industrial hygiene, safety and health care. At the end of this course, students will be able to: Identify a conflict of interest; understand the difference between ethical, moral, and legal; set out the facts in a case/investigation; identify and select among alternative actions; reflect back.

How It Works

Attend from the convenience of your own desk or laptop. Prior to each session, you will receive a website link where you will log in to the session. For sound, you may use a headset or your computer's speakers.

Session 2 is interactive—you will participate in a work group. It is very important for Thursday's session to have a headset for 2-way communication.

FACULTY

MARK KATCHEN, MBA, CIH

Managing Principal for The Phylmar Group, Inc. with expertise in industrial hygiene, toxicology, occupational health, risk communication and e-commerce. He is a Certified Industrial Hygienist and a State of California Registered Environmental Assessor. Mr. Katchen is on the faculty of UC Irvine and the University of Nevada, Las Vegas Center for Health Promotion.

ELIZABETH THOMAS, PhD, COHN-S, ANP-BC, CNL, FAAOHN

Dr. Thomas is an Assistant Professor in UCLA's Occupational and Environmental Health Nursing Program.

Ethics for Health and Safety Professionals Webinar

Who Should Attend

Industrial hygienists, occupational health nurses, occupational medicine physicians, safety engineers and specialists, environmental managers, other environmental and occupational health and safety professionals, union and worker health and safety representatives.

Comments from prior participants:

"The ethical scenarios presented and discussed provided insight on factor associated with ethical dilemmas and how to appropriately respond."

"Good overall ethics course presented in a different manner from your traditional training sessions. Class was interactive and material had a lot of real-life scenarios presented in some challenging ways."
